Analysis of the Reasons for the Soaring Price of Optical Cables Chart

Overview

In this comprehensive analysis from Commmesh, we examine the root causes of the 2025–2026 fiber price surge in detail, the specific role of drone warfare, why G. 657A2 grades are hit hardest, the supply-side bottlenecks that amplified the crisis, secondary. From late 2025 through the first quarter of 2026, the global fiber optic cable market experienced one of the sharpest and most unexpected price surges in its history. 652D fiber, bend-insensitive G. 657A2 grades have all seen dramatic increases. After an extended period of subdued pricing in several regions, optical fibre prices are rising sharply alongside sustained demand. Bare fiber — the uncoated glass strand at the heart of every optical cable — has seen dramatic price fluctuations over the past 12–18 months. High fiber optic cable prices may threaten the financial feasibility of information communication technology (ICT). CRU Optical Fibre Price Assessments have long been recognised as the industry's most trusted benchmarks, built on rigorous methodology and strict adherence to transparency. This article will analyze the logic.
