

How much does a galvanized ladder-type cable tray cost in Iraq

Article Overview

The price of galvanized ladder-type cable trays in Iraq varies depending on size, material, galvanization method, and supplier, typically ranging from $20 to $60 per meter for standard hot-dip galvanized steel trays.

Overview

Galvanized ladder-type cable trays, also known as HDG cable ladders, are widely used in industrial and commercial electrical installations due to their high corrosion resistance, durability, and ventilation for cables. They are made from steel that undergoes hot-dip galvanization, which involves immersing the steel in molten zinc to create a protective coating, enhancing longevity and reducing maintenance costs.

Factors Affecting Price

- Material and Galvanization Method: Hot-dip galvanized steel is more durable and slightly more expensive than pre-galvanized or painted steel. Stainless steel or aluminum trays cost more but offer superior corrosion resistance.
- Size and Load Capacity: Wider trays or those designed for higher cable density are priced higher due to increased material usage and structural strength requirements.
- Supplier and Location: Local suppliers in Iraq, such as those listed on cabletrayuae.com, provide a range of cable trays including ladders, trunkings, and gratings, and prices may vary based on shipping, import duties, and local demand.
- Customization: Custom lengths, fittings, and accessories can increase the overall cost. Suppliers like JLH Electric offer OEM/ODM options for tailored solutions.
