

Installation of Level 3 Distribution Box in Singapore

Article Overview

Professional Level 3 (3-phase) distribution box installation in Singapore is available through licensed electricians who provide safe, compliant, and reliable services for residential, commercial, and industrial properties.

What is a Level 3 / 3-Phase Distribution Box

A 3-phase distribution box (Level 3 DB) is designed to handle higher voltage and power loads, typically required in industrial, commercial, or large residential buildings. It houses circuit breakers, fuses, and residual current devices (RCDs) to distribute electricity safely and evenly, protecting circuits from overloads and short circuits while ensuring a stable power supply throughout the property. These boxes are essential for modern electrical systems and are often required for compliance with Singapore's electrical standards.

Services Offered by Installers

Licensed electricians in Singapore provide a full range of services for Level 3 distribution boxes, including:

- New DB Box Installation – Tailored for homes, offices, or industrial setups with proper load distribution.
- Upgrading Old Distribution Boards – Replacing aging or inadequate panels to support modern appliances and higher power demands.
- Repairs & Troubleshooting – Fixing faulty breakers, burnt components, or uneven load issues.
