

Ivory Coast Smart Distribution Box Manufacturer

Article Overview

Groupe Cahors and BOX AFRICA are key providers of distribution boxes in Ivory Coast, offering solutions for residential and commercial electrical networks.

Groupe Cahors

Groupe Cahors supplies distribution boxes designed for public electricity distribution, suitable for connecting individual homes to the network. Their products feature glass fibre reinforced polyester enclosures, providing high mechanical resistance (IK10) and protection against corrosion, chemicals, UV, and heat. The boxes include a grille for three-phase electrical distribution, supporting network connections from 50 to 240 mm² and bypasses up to 35 mm², ensuring safety and reliability for operators and users in Ivory Coast . These boxes are ideal for both urban and rural installations.

BOX AFRICA

BOX AFRICA, based in Abidjan, is listed as a company involved in distribution services in Ivory Coast. While specific product details are not fully disclosed, the company is recognized in business directories for its role in supplying electrical and distribution solutions, making it a potential local partner for sourcing smart distribution boxes .

Additional Considerations

For broader IT and smart device integration, ASBIS Ivory Coast provides value-added distribution services for technology products, including smart devices and IoT solutions. While not a direct manufacturer of electrical distribution boxes, ASBIS can support projects requiring smart grid or connected electrical infrastructure .
