

Ranking of Sudanese Optical Cable Manufacturers

Article Overview

Sudan currently has limited local fiber optic cable manufacturers, but companies like Conductor provide installation and maintenance services, while international suppliers such as OMC and ETK Kablo serve the Sudanese market.

Local Service Providers

- Conductor Engineering: While not a manufacturer, Conductor is a leading Sudanese company offering fiber optic cable installation, testing, splicing, termination, and maintenance. They have experience with major operators in Sudan, including Sudatel, Zain, and MTN, and can handle both overhead and underground fiber optic links . They also provide long-term support and monitoring systems for optical networks.
- JM Group (Joud Cables): Based in Sudan, Joud Cables manufactures high-quality copper and aluminum cables and has advanced production facilities. While they do not explicitly produce fiber optic cables, they are a major local cable manufacturer and may provide complementary infrastructure for telecom projects .

International Manufacturers Serving Sudan

- OMC Cable & FTTH Products: A global fiber optic manufacturer offering bulk fiber optic cables, FTTH solutions, pre-connectorized products, and fiber management accessories. They are known for high-quality products and timely delivery, making them suitable for Sudanese telecom operators and data centers .
