

Which company makes the best alloy cable trays in Georgia

Article Overview

United Structural Products and MP Husky are among the top manufacturers of high-quality alloy cable trays in Georgia, offering UL/NEMA-certified, custom solutions.

United Structural Products (US Tray)

Headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia, United Structural Products specializes in made-to-order aluminum and stainless steel cable trays built to NEMA standards and UL-certified . They offer light, standard, and heavy-duty trays with I-beam construction, along with tray covers and wire management accessories. US Tray emphasizes custom solutions, supporting complex orders with design, manufacturing, shipping, and installation assistance. Their focus on product quality, reliability, and competitive pricing makes them a leading choice for industrial and commercial projects in Georgia .

MP Husky

MP Husky is a nationally recognized manufacturer with extensive experience in UL, CSA, and NEMA-compliant cable tray systems, including wire mesh/basket trays and cable bus systems . While headquartered outside Georgia, they serve the state and provide highly engineered, cost-effective, and reliable solutions for demanding applications, including nuclear and industrial environments. MP Husky is known for innovative designs, eco-friendly products, and strong customer support, making them a top contender for high-performance alloy cable trays .
